OUR REDWOOD TREES

We will begin deep watering our Redwood Trees once again to see them through the drought.

A few years ago, the Redwood Trees were dying due to our extreme summer heat and the lack of water to their root system. Homeowner Steve Karnes began to research and took the trees under his wings to save them. With the help of our arborist and a Board of Directors who agreed that our beautiful 50+ year old trees were worth saving, our trees have come back and are thriving once again.
